BATHON STONE HOUSE
North East
Private

circa 1850

Located near the Camp Brisson Property is a two story stone house, probably constructed during the second quarter of the 19th century as the farmhouse for the immediate area. Due to subsequent private camp and resort development, many of the agrarian structures associated with the house have been removed. The Bathon Stone House was remodeled in the early 20th century and used for camp facilities.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Bathon Stone House c. 1850 is a 2 story stuccoed fieldstone structure located on the grounds of Camp Brisson and used as a summer residence for the camp nurse. The house faces east with a north/south gable orientation.

The stone structure seems to have been built in a couple of stages but due to the coat of stucco a structural sequence was not evident and the interior was not open. The entire structure rests on an uncoursed stone foundation and covered with a medium sloped tile roof.

The main block appears to have been built in two 2 bay one room sections with a single story shed addition attached to the southern gable. A single story shed roof porch stretches across the south facade.

The first stage appears to have been the northern two bay section with an interior end chimney and an entrance in the southern bay. The trim is plain and the door replaced. The 6/6 sash have plain trim also. A boxed cornice stretches across at eave level. The north gable has a single 6/6 sash on the first floor. A plain bargeboard closes the end eave. Similar detailing and a basement entrance is found on the west side.

The southern 2 bay section is similar in appearance and continues the same form and lines of the original section.

The interior had obviously been remodeled on the first floor with most of the interior details having been replaced.

A couple of barn buildings remain.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Bathon Stone House does not retain much architectural significance outside of its existance as one of the earlier structures in the immediate area. The house was probably the farmhouse associated with the area farm land.
